What's New In GearDownload?

GearDownload is a FREE tool. Review: I installed this program and it runs fine in Windows Vista, with few restrictions. You can use the GearDownload to get disk, settings, text files, ZIP archives, and PDF files from any website you choose, all at once. Unfortunately, much of the time you will get links to download the Windows Application Setup file. At this time, I was able to download it. I've never seen an alternative for downloading an already installed application such as IMDB. There are no other features other than plain downloading and nothing more... although I am willing to bet there are quite a number of other free tools like this that can do the same for you. DuckDuckGo is quite a good web search engine. In my opinion it's better than Google. Just remember one thing. If you search on Google for something, you are gonna get something different than what you get with DuckDuckGo. DuckDuckGo is not blackhat. Not to be a fan boy, but I have to say I have never had any problems with Google. That is not to say I don't use it. It is just that I trust Google more. That being said I also hate that Google is becoming a social media giant. I just don't trust them to stop. It is just a question of when they become big enough to be untrusted. Nothing at all wrong with that. However, most people can't stand Google search results. For them, they need something else. That's their choice. But let's see... Google is supposed to be the best search engine there is. I think not much of an issue is that they are becoming Big Brother. However, I don't see much of a problem, but my concern is... they are becoming more and more related to each other. See what I mean? The only way Google can be considered the best is if they stop being so social. Everything else will not make up for it. Nothing at all wrong with that. However, most people can't stand Google search results. For them, they need something else. That's their choice.
