Because of that, it really didn't matter to us that Veusz is mostly a "freeware" product. What we really wanted was to create our own graphs using our data. We didn't have to write a single line of code to achieve that. All we had to do was to use the information we wanted to use and the result was there. It's a simple and easy to use application that creates graphs from the data we enter into it. Creating graphs is fun, but when you have a tool that makes it as simple as possible, you can create any type of graph you want. There isn't a single thing you can't do with it, and the results we've got from using it 09e8f5149f
