In the seven sins of villainy, the first is pride. After failing your mission to stop the Mob's revenge and allied with them, will you face the consequences of your sins, or will you remain free to make the same mistake again and again? #Hitman3Sins Show MoreQ: Error: An entity did not match the required schema type 'XXX' I have two Entity Framework 4.0 data models. The first one has a field called ExternalReference which I'm trying to get into a second model. The EF model references the first model but I can't see a connection between the two so I get an error when I try to read an ExternalReference object from the second model. Model 1 namespace MapBuilderTest.Models { public class ExternalReference { public string Name { get; set; } } } Model 2 namespace MapBuilderTest.Models { public class Business { public ExternalReference ExtRef { get; set; } } } I'm trying to do the following in the Business class but I get the following error: MapBuilderTest.Models.Business b = db.Businesses.Single(t => t.ID == 22); string mappedFile = b.ExtRef.Name; Error: An entity did not match the required schema type 'MapBuilderTest.Models.ExternalReference'. A: My first guess: you can't add an ExternalReference property to the Business entity, but need a separate model for that. My second guess: there's a difference between ExternalReference and ExternalReferenceList (the type of the ExternalReferences property you added) that are required by the mapping. A third guess: your dbml file is missing? // Copyright 2010 the V8 project authors. S.O.U.L. - TERROR is a free strategy game in which you lead the most powerful team possible: a group of four pets. After three years of research and development, an underground lab is finally operational. With a wide range of weapons at your disposal, it is up to you to defend the lab against the hordes of faceless enemies. Use your tactical skills and strategy to lead the lab's inhabitants through their last battle to become the most powerful team possible. In the peaceful world, a new horror is rising. The monsters are beginning to enter the world. They are born from the dark caves and ravines of evil, twisted and lethal underground laboratories. They are killers that know no fear, and they only have one goal in life: to kill! But that is not all. They have plans of their own, and it is up to you to stop them. But be careful - you are not the only monster that has the power to fight back. Just because you are a good monster, doesn't make you right and the bad monsters are still there. So it is up to you to lead a team of four monster-based pets, form a team, and give it all you've got to become the ultimate monster. The game is played on a 2D plane with a field divided into seven areas. Each area is separated by a sealed door and contains one-of-a-kind monsters in an in-game tutorial. Seven bosses (each one representing a personality trait) have been assigned to the seven areas. Each area has its own air supply and air pressure, leading to slightly different gameplay mechanics from one area to the next. Pets can be ordered in the store, allowing access to a vast variety of monsters. Each one has its own strengths and weaknesses, and the ones you choose to equip will determine which areas you are able to reach and which bosses you can fight. Game features: 2D plane with 7 areas and 7 bosses Select from an extensive variety of monster pets Wide variety of weapons to take to the next level of gameplay 7 in-game tutorial chapters in which you unlock areas and more weapons 7 bosses that will lead you to the true path of power Cave maps that contain new creatures and new challenges, each of them unique 7 air pressures that define the gameplay style and mechanics Equipment that give your pets powers such as a double jump, extra health or additional c9d1549cdd

You need to fill up a tank with plastic to prevent it from destroying the earth. Find the right path along the map, enjoy the bonus points and collect as much plastic as possible. If I tap to scroll the map the app slows down for like a second and then speeds back up. If I zoom in on my location or on a shop sign - every second it lags, and scrolls and freezes. Very frustrating. All of the videos on this app are clips from bestbuy.com, walmart.com and some others. I don't know if that was the app developer's choice but there are so many better videos. Amazing concept with great potential by D. G. Curatours is a really interesting concept. We found our tour guide to be well-informed, informative and entertaining. We were blessed to have access to great content (including exclusive talks and behind-the-scenes footage) and we were able to ask questions throughout the tour. As mentioned in other reviews, the app is really buggy and slow. There are way too many ads in this app. One of the features I personally enjoy is the ability to ask a question of my tour guide via Google hangout (which, surprisingly, worked really well!). As a small business owner, I can see this app having many potential uses. I'd love to see a path to connection between tours and stores that could let businesses monitor or book these tours at the store level. I'd like to see a way to create a person-to-person connection between guests and their tour guides (maybe even access curated lists of questions to ask your tour guide). If you are an entrepreneur/small business owner and you're interested in an app that offers the same sort of educational experience of the museum app, this is definitely worth checking out! Incredible by 100K I love the concept of curatours but there is a glitch with this app. It is laggy and the fastest way to get to a place is to wait till it finds
