If I want to build an exe and install it in two different environment (Dev and Test) and be able to debug and test two at the same time. Is it possible to setup the same App (same exe) on different environments with the same AppData so I don't need to setup the same solution/project on both environment? Yes, just make sure you've used the same path for your appdata. You could use the special Environment.SpecialFolder for it (can be found in a using System.IO;), like this: string appdataPath = Environment.GetFolderPath(Environment.SpecialFolder.ApplicationData); (You can of course use both currentUser and currentUserprofile). For the Application configuration: There is a shortcut to change the application configuration using command-line tools.
