The Xiontech Ltd, the world leader in the field of integrated Circuit (IC) monitors and test equipment, has announced its participation in the development of Lj-Aware BV, a collaborative project between the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) of the United States and the Spanish Institute of Health Carlos III (ISCIII). Xiontech has designed and developed an equipment to control influenza pandemics at the hospital level (distributed by PHS Global). The main objective of this project is to develop and test an Intelligent Decision Making System that uses the information stored in the Lj-Aware database, and control epidemics at the hospital level according to the pandemic alert levels established by the World Health Organization (WHO). "The CDC has developed a comprehensive database, and wants to expand and upgrade it. However, information management systems do not allow access to this data, which must be entered manually. We aim to develop a system, which can be used in all the hospitals. We could offer the CDC the mobile APP to keep the health and social security in the populations in an efficient manner and at a great distance," says Michael Spink, Vice President of Development for the Healthcare Division of Xiontech Ltd."
