The cornea is the most commonly donated tissue, and mechanical replacement of this tissue has significant success as shown by the wide use of prosthetic lenses and advances in penetrating keratoplasty. However, alternative tissues are often preferred for younger and otherwise healthy patients. These patients often reject transplant tissue because of any disparity in their own tissues or against their transplant. A better understanding of the reasons for donor-patient rejection is needed to help broaden the donor pool. Although rejection is certainly a problem, it is far less important than the need for a better understanding of the human immune system and how this system interacts with our transplanted tissues. Greater success in establishing successful corneal transplants depends upon meeting the patient's expectation of treatment and achieving subsequent graft acceptance.}, {key:'XYZ'}]); this.props.flatpickr(this.props.props); } } Please help me as i have tried a lot but did not get any thing Thanks in advance A: I try to give a answer to the question posted on stack overflow Here is the error: react-context2 is loaded by a tag that comes before that. This means React doesn't know about it. — Tizano Silva (Oct 21 '17) And this is the reason of this error. You can see in the render method where I load component react-context2.

To help alleviate the financial strain from the unexpected launch of Super Mario Galaxy, Nintendo decided to delay Super Mario Galaxy 2 until Summer of 2007 to avoid the cost of establishing a second development team for the game. It should be noted that both Mario Kart Wii and Super Mario Galaxy 2 are not sold separately, and were packaged as a one-disc set
