Some of the Windows Operating system task execution can be easily done by preparing a batch file. Windows 10 is not an exception, Windows 10 includes this powerful feature to make maintenance tasks or installation tasks easier and faster. There are lots of parameters from which we can customize Windows 10's Task automation. Now, let us discuss those parameters one by one. Windows 10.taskchk file? I usually take screenshot of important tasks that I did on Windows, there were lots of options provided in the Windows 10's Task Automation. Apart from the Task options, there is a.taskchk file for the tasks. The .taskchk file makes a duplicate of the task execution. So it is wise to create a .taskchk file for the tasks that we do. .taskchk Windows 10? This comes with the Windows 10 installation. All you need to do is to find a .taskchk file (usually located under %ProgramFiles%\WindowsApps\Programs\Microsoft.Windows.TaskScheduler) and change the settings that we want. There is a .taskchk file for WindowsUpdate, Windows Defender, etc. Let us have a look at few steps that will change the settings of Windows 10's Task Automation (Windows 10 version 1903) by creating a .taskchk file.

1. Press the Windows key + X to open the start menu and search for the task scheduler. This will open the Task Scheduler app.
2. Once Task Scheduler starts, you will see a window with the operating system tasks. Choose one of the tasks and open it.
3. Find a '.taskchk' file under the specified folder (Windows10)\Programs\Microsoft.Windows.TaskScheduler
4. You can change the settings as desired. Click the right arrow to go to the next available option.
5. You can do it manually as well. For instance, you can choose the action and click on Finish. Click the arrows to go to next available setting.
6. Click on the arrow to choose b7e8fdf5c8
