The Chronicles Of Dragon Wing - The Requiem Of Ares Features Key:

The game has completed the first ten chapters.

The story is focused on the main four characters in the group: Charon, Helios, Tiana and the Prophet of Ares.

The chapters have been designed to bring the players to a better understanding of the magical world and time zones.

If the players defeat Helios, he will no longer possess a special attack called Mystery which leads to his death.

The game is now more like a classic adventure game in the sense that the story and the main objective is focused on the main characters. Only when they complete the last chapter will the players be able to venture into the original storyline.

“The coming of the Doomsday will occur after the mortals cannot remember their past and have forgotten the gods in ancient times. They created their own myth to hide the truth and created the gods as artificial monsters as they were afraid of the truth.” □The Requiem of Ares□ an epic RPG with Fantasy and Action elements about a world where magic and technology live together. They were victims of the “alt-lite” movement that aims to violently oppose the alt-left movement that is trying to silence conservative and independent viewpoints on social media platforms. Both Muñoz and Diaz Díaz are Latinx. It didn’t matter that Muñoz called out the “alt-light” movement as the “real racists” on Saturday night’s edition of The Kelly File and that Diaz Díaz called out the same thing earlier that day on America Live With Megyn Kelly. As they walked through downtown Charlottesville on Saturday, they were confronted by a woman from the alt-light movement. It started with her screaming, “get the f–k out of here,” while kicking the Fox News producers several times. The woman was met with resistance from a group of people standing near Fox News reporters. The woman’s companion held a sign with the words “DIE SORRY BITCH” written on it. Diaz Díaz was able to continue walking after seeing the sign but Muñoz was struck in the back and face. The “alt-light” movement is a loosely organized and volatile online movement comprised of violent, hateful, and incited individuals that have been using social media platforms, such as Facebook and Twitter, to harass and threaten prominent conservatives and other users on Twitter who identify as liberal or conservative. Earlier this week, Twitter announced that they are banning white nationalists from using their services. It was after this that the alt-light movement rallied to harass and threaten these people. What's new in The Chronicles Of Dragon Wing - The Requiem Of Ares:

The Requiem of Ares "Long my day has been." Art of Perception: Your horse's sense of smell is strong; the big horse smells very fresh and your trail is still clear. The sky is clear, yet the wind is blowing from the north. Charm: As you perform a trick, your horse, Meros, grants you a "+2" to the ability of the trick you perform, with a minimum of a "+1" if the trick requires communication, or a "+3" if the trick requires no special effect or actions from others. Deeds of Adversity: on a long journey, at least once a day, you will likely experience adversity in the form of delays or accidents. When this happens on a long journey, you get a "1" turn of advantage against the other adventurers. If the adversity occurs during combat, you get an extra "1" turn of advantage and a "5" to one of your primary stats. This assumes you do not already have (0). Deeds of Gold: When negotiating with a particular character or official, you will likely get a successful deal on any questions you ask if they have deeds of Gold (i.e., if they have enough gold to spend at gold merchants). Faith of Ares: Your gods worship Ares, giving you a +2 def. during a challenge, specifically to challenges giving you the "Curse", "Invitation" or "Resistance" abilities. Perfect Storm: You notice when a small storm approaches. This storm will offer mystical resistance to enemies and bonus dice to allies. The storm's dice bonus to hit an attacker is equal to its own hit dice +1, and to a defender is equal to its own hit dice +2. Perfect Truce: You detect the time it will take to reach an encounter from current speed, for each minute past that time the speed decreases by one. At the time it is determined, any encounters or roads with time remaining will warn you of this, and the spells Traveling by Tunnel and Traveling by Map will fail before you reach that encounter. Powering Down: You're on a long journey, and your horse is on the verge of exhaustion. It gains a "-1" to one of its stats as long as you maintain the pace of traveling. This decrease will be equal to the difference between its current stat and its tier
