just make sure you have your maps installed before you launch your server. it's also good to keep in mind that your server runs on a minecraft client version as well as the server. if you notice any problems with the game when you run it, try updating to the latest client version first! for example, if you try to host a 1.8.2 server on a 1.3 client, the server will fail to launch due to the differences between the 2.0.3 and 1.3 versions. if your server has an active protection system (such as the censorship mod), then it's recommended that you upgrade your client version to the latest version first. if you are running a pre-alpha version of the server, you can expect occasional bugs such as the server crashing, lag spikes and other game-breaking issues. this is due to the server being in its experimental phase and the issues can usually be fixed by restarting the server. apex is a secure minecraft hosting company that only uses the latest version of the client. our servers are not infected with any viruses, and we also offer a minecraft server set up tutorial so you can easily setup your own server. we also offer a 24/7 support line should you need any help and we're always happy to help out! players can also opt in to a server and pay for additional features. we have a number of different plans to choose from. these include increased player limits, custom player skins, online availability, and much more. these servers are usually reserved for top ranked and popular servers. most of our plans also include our guarantee of continued service. if your server should ever be taken down for any reason, we will make it available again once you have been paid.
