Windows 8.1 (magyar) 64 Bit Serial Key Keygen WORK

i have a friend who has recently upgraded his office computer to windows 10 and he's telling me that in order to activate it he needs a product key. he has found one, but he doesn't know what it is for. it says "windows 8.1" on it, but in the next box it says "home". i'm trying to help him, but i don't know what i'm looking at. should i try copying his product key in here? or what? this is the error message that we have when trying to create the product key using the windows 8.1 media supplied by microsoft via boot camp using the same product key i used for windows 8.1 w8h32/64 with core 64. i would assume that this is the correct way to upgrade 8 to 8.1 as it is using the same files as w8h32/64. i can not believe this laptop came with anything other than the most basic edition of windows 8 from dell so have i done something wrong or is there a fix other than buying a product key that i have already purchased in the form of windows 8. i can confirm my laptop was installed with w8h32/64, i took it that h stands of home and using the creation tool chose core being that home was not listed. i would assume that this is the correct way to upgrade 8 to 8.1 as it is using the same files as w8h32/64. i can not believe this laptop came with anything other than the most basic edition of windows 8 from dell so have i done something wrong or is there a fix other than buying a product key that i have already purchased in the form of windows 8. i can confirm my laptop was installed with w8h32/64, i took it that h stands of home and using the creation tool chose core being that home was not listed.
