For the past four years, I've been a Web developer and DevOps engineer, primarily working on the Windows platform, but we also challenged ourselves by testing on a Mac and an Android phone. I'm now a senior configuration engineer at Dow Jones Newswires, where I spend my time performing actual DevOps and managing infrastructure that runs our entire Web site and CMS in AWS. Cloud computing is an increasingly important part of our work routine. John P. Mello Jr. is Contributing Editor of ZDNet's Cheapskate.com.
